Winter Newsletter 2018

Everything may have gone a bit quiet in our gardens just now but here at the Horti, we have some exciting events and ideas to keep you occupied over the Winter months. This newsletter also bring news of changes to our Management Committee including our new President.

Changes to our Management Committee

After three years as President of the Horti, Sarah Curtis resigned from office at the recent AGM. We thank Sarah for her hard work and commitment over the past three years.

Following the nomination of Joe Clark at the AGM, the committee unanimously supported his election as President at our November committee meeting. Joe will also take over the role of Show Manager; our thanks go to Ann Pirie stood down after five years in this role.

At our AGM we also welcomed Liz Stewart onto the Committee. Liz has been invaluable recently at setting up and managing our website.

Talks and Events:

Wednesday 9 January at 2.30 p.m.

Branklyn Garden, Perthshire. Jim Jermyn is the Property Manager & Head Gardener of this National Trust garden. He was also the horticultural consultant and Show Manager of Gardening Scotland for 17 years. A world-renowned Alpine expert, he has also led many botanical tours to the Dolomites and is a frequent lecturer abroad.

N.B. This is an afternoon meeting.

Wednesday 13 February at 7.30 p.m.

Amisfield Walled Garden - Restoring the Lost Garden of Haddington.

Kate Rycroft, Chair of the Amisfield Preservation Trust. At 8 acres in size, Amisfield Walled garden is one of the largest historic walled gardens in Scotland.

Over the past eleven years, it has been restored from a completely neglected state into a thriving community garden. It now provides a venue for education and training for people of all abilities, as well as being an established local visitor attraction. Kate will describe the historic background to the garden's development and will outline the current restoration as a community garden.

Wednesday 6 March at 7.30 p.m.

'Wildlife in your Garden.' Stan Da Prato will tell us all about what lives in our gardens, how to attract even more of them and some of the issues this can bring to both private gardens, our public parks and open spaces. Besides gardening, Stan chairs the Aberlady Bay Reserve Committee, has a PhD on small songbirds in the Lothians, is editor of the journal Scottish Birds and past President of the Scottish Ornithologist's Club.

All meetings will be held in Gifford Village Hall.

Each talk is followed by refreshments and a raffle.

Attendees are kindly asked to donate raffle prizes in aid of the Society's fundraising

Education Courses and Outings 2019:

Courses:

A Pruning Course has been arranged for Saturday 2 March at 10.00 a.m. in Amisfield Walled Garden. Please let our Secretary Jeanie Cole if you would like to attend as places are limited.

Outings:

Arrangements are underway to offer one or two outings next year. We have a number of destinations in mind but always appreciate more ideas from our members. Details will be given in our Spring Newsletter.

2019 Dates to Note:

Inter Society Quiz - Thursday 4th April 7:30pm

This year's quiz will take place at the Masonic Hall in Dalkeith. Members are invited to come along to cheer on the GHS Quiz Team.

Plant Sale - Saturday 18 May 10.00 a.m

Our annual Plant Sale will be held in the Village Hall. As always, we depend greatly on our members adding to our regular order of annuals by donating plants for sale. All plants are appreciated, particularly herbaceous divisions or cuttings which are potted up, as well as any spare seedlings you may have grown. This year we will increase our vegetable and herb provision. Suggestions are always welcome.

Gardening Scotland (Royal Highland Centre, Ingliston) - 31 May - 2 June

Gifford Flower Show - Saturday / Sunday 17 / 18 August

Plans are well underway to run this amazing annual two-day event in the Village.

The Committee work hard looking at all aspects of the Show, continually adding innovative and new ideas to ensure its success. 2019 will bring a new style of schedule and some exciting new classes. Following the large number of entries to the Dog Show last year, we hope to hold it again next year.
